X-Ray Fears Needless

By FRED C. SELEY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A few Pottstonians give the eye of Memorial hospital's chest X-ray a look at some novel sights, and many Pottstonians have some strange fears of being X-rayed.

These were two points made yesterday at Memorial hospital by a radiologist and an X-ray technician.

The topic has assumed new importance in Pottstown recently because of a new borough ordinance requiring all food handlers to have a chest X-ray taken before they begin work.

At this month's health board meeting, it was reported that many food-handlers have not yet complied with the ordinance.

Frank Horvath, technician at Memorial hospital for the past 12 years, said that among the 500 chest X-rays made at the hospital in the past two years, "We've turned up pictures with things like pieces of shrapnel on them, and even the point of a needle."

Some of the people carrying such

It's just as simple as this. Ruth Shollenberger, technician in Memorial hospital's X-ray darkroom, demonstrates how easy it is to have a chest X-ray taken. Dr. Arthur Fisher, radiologist, who is checking her position, and Frank Horvath, who's at the push-button, joined yesterday in pointing out that many people who should have X-rays taken—particularly food-handlers who legally must have theirs made by Aug. 1—are reluctant to do so because they have mistaken ideas about the whole procedure. Dr. Fisher is substituting for Dr. James A. Griffiths, hospital radiologist who is on vacation.

TRUCE TEAMS MEET DESPITE RHEE BLASTS

First Full-Dress Talk In 20 Days Held

RED RADIO ANNOUNCES 'ONLY SIGNING REMAINS'

PANMUNJOM, Friday, July 10.—Allied and Communist truce delegates met here today to work out final agreement on an armistice in the three-year Korean War despite South Korea's opposition.

The negotiators met promptly at 11 a. m. in the conference hut where they have talked of armistice for two years.

They adjourned after 29 minutes until 11 a. m. Saturday (10 p. m. Friday, Pottstown time).

The session was the first full-dress meeting in 20 days. It was termed an executive session, which meant that the results probably would not be made public.

But the issues were well known. The main one was whether the United Nations could make South Korea and its vitriolic President Syngman Rhee abide by truce terms already negotiated.

Rhee insists that Korea must be united soon, by force if necessary.

The truce agreement proposes only a political conference to discuss the Korean problem. It does not insist that Korea must be unified, Rhee does.

Another problem was whether the UN command could recover the 27,000 North Korean prisoners of war released by Rhee. Their disposition is provided for in the truce draft but they now are at large among the South Korean population.

Convening after a 20-day break since their last full dress meeting, the negotiators are expected to start ironing out details for supervision of a truce, and possibly soon choose a date for signing ceremonies.

A PEIPING Red radio broadcast, quoting a "special correspondent" at the Reds' truce camp north of Panmunjom, said the Allied side would be asked at today's meeting what measures would be taken to guarantee that the South Korean Government would not wreck any agreement.

"Signature is almost the only thing waiting for the Korean armistice agreement," the broadcast said.

President Syngman Rhee, reported to have been handed a secret letter yesterday by Gen. (Continued on Page Three)

Giving very careful consideration to whether he should cry is 3-year-old David Ammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Ammon, 76 Cedar street. Hit by a car on North Evans street. Here he is being treated for abrasions of the head. A few minutes later, it was learned he also had a fractured collarbone. Aiding him in Pottstown hospital's dispensary are Dr. Marie Teresa Schmidt (right), the new resident, and Helga Krause, staff nurse.

Youngster Suffers Broken Collarbone When Car Hits Him on Evans Street

A three-year-old Pottstown boy suffered a broken collarbone at 11:45 a. m. yesterday when he darted between parked cars on North Evans street and was hit by a Pottstown RD 2 man's sedan.

The child, David Ammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ammon, 76 Cedar street had been staying at the home of his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Wayne Trollinger, 313 North Evans street.

His parents had traveled to the Elks convention this week in St. Louis, Mo.

The car driver, Freeman Harder, told Patrolman Thomas Corum that as he was going north on Evans street (a one-way street for northbound traffic), the child ran out from between two of the cars parked in a solid line on the west side of the street.

AFTER HE hit the boy, he stopped immediately and had neighbors call an ambulance. Driven by Edward Seiders, the Good Will ambulance took him to the hospital.

At first it was believed he had suffered only abrasions of the forehead, scalp and neck, but a recheck and X raying showed he had a fracture of the collarbone on the right side.

After the fracture was put in a special cast, he went home with his grandmother who had accompanied him to the hospital.

Edward J. Clouser, 441 North York street, posted $500 bail after the case was outlined by Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads, who arrested him.

Clouser is accused of sideswiping a car driven by Frank A. Mensch, a Democrat of long standing, is a Montgomery county commissioner. Further details of his case were unavailable early this morning.

YOUTH INJURED BY BULL TAKEN TO CLEVELAND

Good Will Ambulance Makes Ohio Trip With Patient

ROBERT AMOLE TO GET TREATMENT THROUGH VA

By ROBERT E. HOYER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The slim, 24-year-old man protested from the white stretcher when they carried him out across the lawn under the shade trees and loaded him in the back of the big, red Good Will ambulance.

Robert K. Amole, paralyzed from the waist down to the bottom of his toes, looked out over the scenic farmland and frame house of his Cedarville road (Pottstown RD 2) home.

Reluctantly and even stubbornly he was leaving the countryside he loved so well. The shadows were lengthening in the late afternoon when the ambulance crew arrived yesterday to take Amole, trampled victim of a "friendly" bull this past Nov. 26, to a Cleveland Veterans hospital.

HE HAS BEEN ridden ever since, first at Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, and later at Pottstown hospital.

The giant, dehorned bull pinned Amole against a stone wall, trampled him, and then left him helpless.

It was bright and still sunny at 5:30 o'clock when they carried him out. A cool, refreshing wind whipped the green hills of Chester county and the sky was pale blue and almost without clouds.

On the long road to Cleveland, across the mountains of Pennsylvania and into the flatlands of Ohio, the young student had a long time to think about his earlier days—days when he used to scamper over the tennis court, when he used to ski in the mountains around Pennsylvania State college in the winter.

They were gone now. And he wondered if they were gone forever.

He has been thinking a long time about his injury and physicians recommended he be taken to a hospital equipped to handle his case.

Only a veteran's hospital has the equipment and care required for the long-term treatment he will require.

Making the trip over the Pennsylvania turnpike last night were Donald David, veteran Good Will driver; Nancy Rogers, nurse at the Pottstown hospital; and Merritt S. Wien, service officer for Post 780, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the man most responsible for securing space for Amole in the Cleveland hospital.

WIEN, who doubles as commander of VFW Post 780 and who has been service officer for the past seven years, asserted, "I've never worked harder on a case in my experience as service officer."

"This boy really needs help, but it was difficult to gain admission in a veterans hospital because his case was non-service inflicted."

Speaker at tonight's convention session will be Dr. George F. Harwood, assistant to the president of the United Lutheran Church in America.

United Fund Panel Approves $7000 Toward Program for 500 Area Scouts

An allocation of $7000 for locally which is subject to approval by the Boy Scout administration was recommended by a United Fund panel made during a meeting at Camp Delmont, Continental district Scout camp near Summerville.

This amount, which is $1000 more than the Scouts received this year, is intended to provide a program for the 500 Pottstown area boys now in Scouting.

The Scout administrators had asked the Fund for $8318, or an increase of $2318, for their 1954 budget.

The panel's recommendation, which is subject to approval by the Boy Scout administration, was recommended by a United Fund panel made during a meeting at Camp Delmont, Continental district Scout camp near Summerville.

PANEL members first had dinner in the camp dining hall with the Scouts and their leaders, and then toured the camp.

Richard D. Dutcher, Continental district Scout executive, acted as guide for the tour, assisted by Ralph Spare.

Dutcher and Spare also described the Scout program to the 11 panel members.

Eighty percent of Boy Scout troops in the area are sponsored by churches, Dutcher revealed, but others are affiliated with civic and service clubs.

The group of representative citizens, known as budgetary panel 3, include Mrs. Elmer Betz, Mrs. Daniel DiNardo, Mrs. Esther Gray, Mrs. Earl Feight, Mrs. Gene Gultman, Mrs. Jesse Hafer, Willis Henricks, Mrs. H. T. Schneider, Mrs. R. H. Spare, Mrs. Elizabeth Waggoner and Mrs. George M. Weber.

SCHOOL ACCEPTS 3 RESIGNATIONS

Basketball Coach, Two Teachers Quits

Resignations of the basketball coach and two teachers were accepted at last night's meeting of the Upper Perkiomen Joint school board committee.

Warren Gulden, basketball coach and assistant football coach at the High school, submitted his resignation to devote full time to a job at Doehler-Jarvis, according to Supervising Principal Stanley M. Kurtz.

The two teachers whose resignations were accepted were John Rick, commercial teacher, and Mrs. Evelyn Steyer. Mrs. Steyer was a first grade teacher at Pennsburg.

Rick has accepted a new job at Newton, Pa. Gulden will be replaced by Donald Fetterman, Muhlenberg township. Fetterman is assistant basketball and football coach there now.

Rick's position will be filled by Mrs. Harriet Hallman of Allentown.

THE BOARD also gave a leave of absence to Mrs. Ruth Tresinger, first grade teacher at the Red Hill school.

The school calendar proposed by Principal Kurtz was accepted by the board. School next year will start on Sept. 9 and end on June 8 according to the new calendar.

Janitorial and general supply bids were accepted, as were the financial reports and a report on Summer playground activities.

Men Make Dirt Fly In Puffing Out Fire In Hay Baler Engine

Men operating a hay baler along Ellis woods road, northwest of Parkersford, had the dirt flying as they smothered a $450 fire in the engine of the baler yesterday after noon at 4:30 o'clock.

Harvey Kulp Jr., Pottstown RD 1, owner of the baler had turned around and saw flames coming from the engine. He quickly unhooked the tractor pulling the baler lest flames reach it.

As nearby residents telephoned firemen, Kulp, two brothers, Gerald and Douglas, also of Pottstown RD 1, and his (Continued on Page Eight)

RESIDENTS DISMAYED

Borough Rips Up Street to Save Money

The borough is ripping up part of a new street in the North End, but it's doing it to save money.

A 300-foot section of Master street, with Terrace lane dividing it, is being torn up so that a new 8-inch water main can be laid under it.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden reported yesterday of the project, which had aroused the curiosity (to say the least) of street hungry North Enders.

"I'm tearing up something in the neighborhood of 300 feet" to get away from tearing up 900," he said.

The section being torn up is the section of Master street that's been paved on each side of Terrace lane, where Pottstown contractor Allen K. Davidheiser Jr. had built homes.

Other sections of street adjoining this section have not yet been paved but are scheduled to be paved soon under the borough's current street-building program.

Street-lacking North End residents wondered yesterday why this paved section of Master street, near Terrace lane, was being torn up. The answer was provided by Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden. An 8-inch water line has to be laid on Master street from Charlotte street east past Terrace lane to Park drive. If this 300-foot section of Master street wasn't torn up now, it wouldn't be long before adjoining sections of unpaved street would be paved, and to lay the needed water line, the borough would have to tear up 900 feet of new street instead of only 300.

Just Right Weather Is Forecast Here

It looks as if the good old summertime has turned its back on tradition and reverted to cooling breezes and pleasant sunshine.

Yesterday's weather was an example of what Summer should really be like. It wasn't too hot and it wasn't too cool, but just about right.

The mercury, exhausted after the workout it received Wednesday night, couldn't even reach the 90 mark at its peak. The highest it climbed to was 73 at 4 o'clock.

Much of the same is predicted for today by the weather man. It should be fair, cool and dry with the highest temperatures in the 70's.

A repeat performance is forecast for tomorrow. The experts call for fair weather and continued coolness.

Season for Burglars Here With Vacations

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
(Written Especially for Central Press and The Mercury)

The lush season for burglars is at hand, warns the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the second story man's biggest ally, ironically enough, is the householder who is merrily vacationing but retains ere long to find his place turned upside down and thoroughly ransacked.

In co-operation with local police throughout the nation, the FBI is crusading to cut skyrocketing totals of burglarized premises by pointing out simple precautions which vacationers can take to forestall burglars at play while they are away.

FBI statistics show that burglaries are committed in the United States at the rate of at least 47 an hour, every hour, every day of the year, but the big bulge in the figures is during the vacation period, when there will be at least 1200 American homes entered and plundered every day during July and August.

It is one of the hardest kinds of lawlessness to combat, say the crime fighters, because it is the furtive type practiced by petty professionals who develop great skill in capitalizing on the foibles of law-abiding citizens who get careless of their property.

As law enforcement improves burglaries actually seem to increase, because criminal elements are forced into less spectacular activities and householders are lulled into a feeling of false security that "it can't happen here" meaning their own homes.

JUST A few simple precautions, universally practiced would lower the burglary totals during coming weeks, the FBI estimates. Here are a few things that can prevent that sickening feeling of returning to find disaster struck while you were away.

Plan ahead and notify the newspaper boy, the milk man and any prospective guests by mail or telephone.

Stop all deliveries. Burglars are grateful for the assistance of a note in the milk bottle announcing departure or the classic message in the mail box: "Key is under the door mat." Even the amateur house breaker is encouraged by accumulations of back dated newspapers and delivery cartons on the doorstep.

Advise the police department that you will be away. The local policeman on the beat or a squad car will gladly make routine checks, and many depredations are broken up in just this way.

Remove all valuables to a safe-deposit box or other place of safe keeping. Relatively few homes have burglar-proof safes, but police are discouraged by how frequently these are not fully used even where they exist.

Serial numbers and descriptions of all appliances and valuables should be taken down, because police often can track them to pawn shops and second hand dealers who are required by law to file sales reports with the police.

AMBULANCE TRIP —

case this past December. A list of phone calls, including two calls to Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State college, and hours of conferences and letter-writing were rewarded this past June 25 when he received confirmation of Amole's acceptance at the Cleveland Veterans hospital from Washington, D. C.

A letter from Vice Admiral J. T. Boone, chief medical director of the Veterans administration informed Amole when the long fight to obtain a veterans bed for Amole had been won.

DR. EISENHOWER was asked to assist in the case because Amole was enrolled as a student at Penn State at the time he was injured. The ambulance stopped at Somerset, high in the mountains along the winding turnpike at 10 o'clock last night.

Wien reported from the resort center the next stop would be made in Pittsburgh several hours later where Amole would visit briefly with several college friends.

The ambulance was slated to arrive in Cleveland at 4 o'clock this morning.

THE TRIP for Wien is more than a reward for a service he performed. It is testing his own endurance, which was curbed abruptly this past April when he entered Pottstown hospital with a gall bladder condition.

HE LEFT the hospital early in May and it was during his convalescence that he worked hardest for Amole.

Amole was on his back in Jefferson hospital receiving physical therapy treatments when he received his BS degree for study in geology and mineralogy late this past January.

An active and popular student on the Penn State campus, he had concentrated on petroleum geology and had planned to work in South America where he spent this past Summer.

He had been taking graduate courses along with his undergraduate curriculum.

At Penn State he was assistant manager of the football team and a member of the varsity skunk team during his Sophomore year.

He was a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, the debate team, glee club, La Vie (year book), chairman of the student government's State political party and secretary-treasurer of Earth-Science club.

He spent his Freshman year at Kutztown State Teachers' college. He is a graduate of Warwick High school.

AMOLE enlisted in the Marine Corps on July 8, 1946 and was discharged July 7, 1948. He left the service with the rank of sergeant. He left Jefferson hospital this past May 17 and was taken directly to Pottstown hospital.

This past June 27 he was discharged at the Charlotte street hospital and taken to his home.

Amole was home from college for the Thanksgiving holidays when he was injured by the bull.

This past January Amole said of the huge bull, "He was a very friendly bull. I had visited him several times before. He must have felt playful."

machine was being tested before being put in regular use, by taking pictures of hospital employees.

From such a test X-ray, it was learned that one nurse had a serious heart ailment of which she was unaware.

Both Dr. Fisher and Horvath were anxious to combat some of the strange fears of chest X-raying that they have found to be wide spread.

Horvath said, "Many people—women especially—are told they have to undress, which is not true."

Dr. Fisher added that a good X-ray picture can be taken through an ordinary dress, provided it doesn't have metallic things on it like sequins or decorative pins.

ANOTHER FEAR, Dr. Fisher said, is that the results of the X-ray are anything but what they really are—"confidential."

Horvath added that some food handlers he knows have been reluctant to get their chest X-rayed because they have the idea it's a long-drawn-out procedure.

"They can be in an out of here in five minutes, at the most."

What's more, he said, no appointment is needed to have a chest X-ray made during the daily period for such work—1:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Still another fear, he said, is that the chest X-ray will be expensive. They're available for $1, the actual cost of the job.

ALTHOUGH most chest X-rays are made of job applicants, food-handlers or hospital patients, Horvath said, more and more members of the general public are taking advantage of the opportunity.

He estimated that three or four out of every 20 persons who get chest X-rays are people who just walked into the hospital of their own accord.

Of the basic importance of chest X-rays—to detect tuberculosis—Dr. Fisher said, "In work like this, if something is found, it usually is an early stage and can be treated easily."

The radiologist declared, "The new drugs and these easily available chest X-rays—they have been the two most important factors in reducing the toll of TB to about one-tenth of what it was 25 years ago."

Less seriously, he noted that the chest X-rays have a good psychological effect generally. The overwhelming majority of those who have them taken learn there is nothing wrong with their chests, and as a result they throw it out in pride.

Mark Clark, apparently continuing holding his line against United Nations cease-fire plans.

The Republic of Korea (ROK) president says a truce without Korea unification would mean death to South Korea, unless the US provides certain safeguards.

A HIGHLY-PLACED ROK source last night told Associated Press Newsman Bill Shinn that talks between Rhee and US special envoy Walter S. Robertson "remain stalemated."

Rhee and Robertson have been secretly conferring 15 days.

"President Rhee still is insisting that South Korea must have from America concrete assurances that Korea will be unified, peacefully or otherwise," the ROK source told Shinn.

"That is the President's first requirement and the one which has not been met by America."

He said that Rhee was holding out against an armistice despite American offers of a military security pact, "substantial" economic aid and four more ROK troop divisions to supplement the present ROK army of 16 divisions.

President Eisenhower, in urging Rhee to accept the truce, has told the South Korean president he would work for unification of Korea through peaceful means and also would try to get US Senate ratification of a mutual security pact.

It has been estimated that expanding US populations will require available acreage in the nation to produce 28 percent more by 1975 in order to maintain present standards.

Ike to Fly to Texas For Conference on Federal Drouth Aid

WASHINGTON, July 9 — President Eisenhower will fly to Texas tomorrow for a conference with governors of six states of the recommended allocation of $2000 drouth stricken Southwest.

In announcing the one-day trip the White House said Eisenhower wants to receive the suggestions the governors "as to how the Federal Government can further operate with the States and the affected by the disaster."

The President will meet in the afternoon at Amarillo with the chief executives of Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. Sections of these states already have been declared disaster areas and eight million dollars has been allocated to them from Federal emergency funds.

Secretary of Agriculture Ben-son, who recently surveyed the affected areas and Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense administrator, will accompany the President. The President specifically requested emergency loans of $2500 and up to farmers and ranchers in drouth stricken areas.

The Adventists Gather

The Allegheny conference of the Seventh Day Adventists yesterday opened its annual Summer encampment at Pine Forge. Advance registrations indicate as many as 4000 persons may be on hand for the week end events. This would break all attendance records for the past five years that the encampments have been held.

It is always a pleasure to have the Adventists return to the Pottstown area year and after year for their sessions.

The conference has the best wishes of the community for the best sessions ever. May it be productive in every wholesome way and may much good come from the proceedings.

His Day at Court

PAUL Alexander Weir, Limerick, is of the opinion that he wasn't done right by the wheels of justice after he was arrested for a motor vehicle code violation.

The laws of the commonwealth are specific as to various procedures to be followed in the wake of an arrest. They are protective of the victim's rights and are designed to accord him every privilege afforded by the constitution, bill of rights and other instruments of the United States.

Enforcement officers are supposed to be well acquainted with the various steps required from time of arrest to imposition of justice. They are supposed, also, to inform their victims of their rights allowed by law. For one reason or another, however, the steps are not dogged as faithfully as they should be.

It is refreshing to realize in these instances that the laws provide relief for the victim and adjustment of the unorthodox procedure followed.

It is refreshing to consider that in a world where tyrants and demagogues are known to take law into their own hands and condemn and consign as their ruthless, stony hearts see fit, we are privileged to live in a land where the rights of all are recognized and given hearing.

The case of Mr. Weir all started with an ordinary traffic arrest. In September Montgomery county's three judges will hear Mr. Weir's side of the story.

Regardless of the merits of the respective sides of the case, it's a mighty good feeling to realize that the little fellow can get his story heard too.

Hardly Businesslike

THE federal excess profits tax officially expired June 30. The Eisenhower Administration now confidently expects to get it extended on a retroactive basis so that no revenue will be lost. The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday overruled Chairman Reed, who is now more opposed than ever.

But even after the committee vote, there will be a fight on the floor and after that the matter will need to be taken up in the Senate. A fair part of July is sure to be gone before an excess profits tax could possibly reach President Eisenhower for signature.

The reciprocal trade law officially expired June 12. The Eisenhower Administration asked for only a minimum extension of one year and promised not to make additional use of the authority within the year. Legislation to achieve this very limited goal is in Congress and not traveling too fast.

The House bill provided for an increase in the size of the Tariff Commission so as to enable President Eisenhower to stack it with Republican protectionist control. The Senate rejected this provision in passing the trade bill, which must now go to conference, so the law will probably have lapsed about a month before it is renewed.

The President's bill for the admission of 240,000 immigrants above usual quotas, including 75,000 Italians, is still bogged down in the Senate Judiciary Committee. This proposal went to Congress many weeks ago. One of its purposes was to reassure the Italian people that the United States is not discriminatory against Italians as many Italians had concluded from the McCarran Act.

We call attention to these three important matters in Congress—excess profits extension, reciprocal trade extension and refugee admission—because they are all in the same pattern. Each should have been handled weeks ago. Each should now be law and in full operation. But each is still up to be passed eventually probably, but embarrassingly late. This is a strange notion of how a team should work. It is an even stranger application of business methods to government.

PUNKY CORNERS
Editor, The Mercury
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see whar Pottstown had a law which cost kids 50 cents if they got caught on the streets after 10 o'clock. That made a late movie pretty expensive those days even though it cost only a nickel to get in the theater. A date with your gal would set you back $1.10.

I see whar The Mercury is runnin' what kind of food Pottstown housewives are feedin' their men in the hot weather. They should try chilled cucumber soup. Even thinkin' about that dish gives a body the shivers.

Zed Dumkopf got to sayin' what big fish he caught over in French creek. His speech sounded like one of them boast-to-boast radio bookies.

JP System Old-Fashioned

Change Justice System

To the Editor: It was very interesting to read about the Limerick man who is going to sue to have the justice of the peace in Norristown thrown out of office.

I do not know anything about that particular case, but it seems to me that it is high time that somebody protested about the justice of the peace system in general.

Everybody involved in law enforcement—lawyers, judges, police—have to be trained. Everybody except the justices of the peace. They just run in an election, usually with nobody running against them, and then go into the business of being small-time judges. This is an old fashioned system and should be changed.

Lauds 'Army' Work

To the Editor: I have been reading articles recently in your paper about the Salvation Army's work for the soldiers at Valley Forge Army hospital, but they also bring cheer and happiness to soldiers' wives.

As a soldier's wife I was a patient at the hospital for 15 days, and every Monday night they came there with refreshments and words of encouragement for us.

To ask them for something is to receive it the following Monday night. No job is too large or too small for them if

WASHINGTON

Stevenson Gets Publicity In Records of Congress

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 9—Although Adlai E. Stevenson has been visiting remote sections of the world for weeks, his friends and admirers have taken special pains that the name and memory of the 1952 Democratic Presidential nominee remain in the political spotlight. Their devotion irritates both the Truman regulars and the Roosevelt-Harriman liberals.

Several prominent Democratic leaders now refer to the Congressional Record as a "Stevenson campaign sheet." Their sarcastic comment derives from the fact that an almost daily account of Stevenson's travels, speeches and interviews has been inserted in the record since he left the United States.

These reports consist of newspaper articles which Barry Bingham, the defeated candidate's traveling companion, sends back to his newspaper, the Louisville Courier-Journal. They are invariably eulogistic, although Bingham's praise of the political tourist's behavior is duplicated by less partial correspondents.

All emphasize his refusal to criticize the Eisenhower administration, or to indict the so-called colonial powers' record in the Orient, India and the Middle East. Stevenson's restraint and his small entourage frequently are contrasted with the Far Eastern trip made by Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who is said to have swaggered through these same lands in style.

SPLIT IN DEMOCRATIC PARTY:

This apparent attempt to prevent the 1952 loser from becoming only a political museum piece sharpens and dramatizes a generally unrecognized split within the Democratic party—namely, the smoldering conflict between the Truman stalwarts and the faction enroled in the Americans for Democratic Action group.

On his recent visit to New York and Washington, the former President showed a definite antagonism toward both the Stevenson and the ADA elements. He mingled only with the politicians and former officials associated with his administration. In fact, he made some tart comments about "reformers."

Truman, of course, has been informed of the Stevenson supporters' conviction that the Missourians' record and campaign tactics were liabilities rather than assets to the 1952 candidate. Even the generous Illinoisan recognizes that he was swamped by an anti-Truman rather than an anti-Stevenson vote.

When the former President was asked if he favored anybody for Democratic National Chairman, he proposed Frank McKinney of Indianapolis as a successor to Stephen A. Mitchell, Stevenson's personal appointee. And Truman indicated that he thought the change should be made immediately. In view of the revelations of McKinney's questionable financial deals, he is definitely not the Stevenson type of politician.

SMALL GROUP FOR STEVENSON:

It is, perhaps, only natural that the Stevenson publicity mentioned in today's Washington column, as well as former President Truman's first, post-inauguration sortie, should spark chatter about Democratic politics and 1956 possibilities. It also coincides with Congressional Democrats' first real attempt to get up off the floor since the 1952 defeat.

Although such premature talk may be idle, it runs along the lines described. A small, devoted and admiring group believe that Stevenson ought to be given another try, and they are even now considering methods of keeping him in the public eye between now and 1956.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

For MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM HUSTON Spring City R.D. 1
BECAUSE today is their 56th wedding anniversary.

it makes your stay in the hospital more pleasant.

God bless each and every one of them. I appreciate what they did for me and I know all the soldiers and their dependents feel the same way. I hope they keep up the good work.

Double Parking Protested

To the Editor: I should like to protest against all the double-parking there has been on High street recently. The last time I went shopping, there were double-parkers all over the place. What's more two of them were blocking me from open parking spaces.

For awhile, police had been cracking down on this, but they seem to be easing up again. Gave them red tickets once and they'll stop soon enough.

Opposes Proposed Ban

To the Editor: I see where two State senators from Philadelphia have introduced a bill that would make Russian roulette illegal in the State. Isn't that going a little bit too far? Pennsylvania already has the reputation of being the most conservative State in the Union.

We can't gamble, we can't drink on Sundays. And now we can't play our favorite sport. It is pretty obvious that this move is in line with the national policy of doing away with anything Russian—even if it's beneficial.

Popular Songs—Bah!

To the Editor: No wonder our divorce rate is so high these days. In the old days, popular songs used to be filled with sweet sentiment and beauty. But today what do you hear?

Take that song, "I'm Walking Behind You." What a fine example for our younger set. Here's a lovely bride walking down the aisle with the man she's supposed to be wedding "till death do them part" and this fellow is telling her to look over her shoulder at him.

This is nothing but a case of adultery in the making!

What lovely sentiment. In my day the young man would be saying "The best man won. Got with him and never look back."

It seems that all songs of love nowadays are based on the feeling that "well, you've won this round, George, but just wait til you make your first business trip to Chicago."

Bothered by Bugs

To the Editor: Has anybody else in Pottstown been bothered during this week with little bugs that look like fleas?

My house is full of them and I've sprayed and powdered until I can't stand the smell and still they're all over. These things are very small and bite viciously. I don't know how to get rid of them.

Gossip in Gotham

Sylvana Magnano's big diversion is an American Oscar winner. Married fellow . . . Gary Cooper, wife Rocky and their daughter are seen together all over Paris these days, so reconciliation rumors are flying. But don't bet any heavy money on it. When the two ladies of the family are busy on sight-seeing tours, Gary slips off for cocktails with his beloved Gisel.

A major reason for Betty Hutton's falling out with Paramount was her insistence that her husband, Charles O'Curran, be made dance director on all her pictures. Some of the tycoons also got the message that Betty thought Charlie ought to be running the studio . . . A famed sister team, doing awfully well, have their booking agency in an uproar because they want to break up the act . . . Adlai Stevenson is on a strict diet. Wants to be streamlined when he returns to the U. S. A.

AN UNDERWORLD POWER in boxing circles will be picked up as a "vagrant" if he is seen loitering on a Manhattan street for only a few moments. All police stations have received a special bulletin directing cops to arrest him . . . Dean Martin's wife tells chums she has no intention of remarrying. That $3700-a-month alimony is too comfy. Upper echelon Paris gossips believe Clark Gable will marry Suzanne Goddard, the beautiful model he's been dating over there. (Oooh, rose French are so romantic! I'll bet them he doesn't.) . . . Another sharp group is talking trade with Howard Hughes. Subject, RKO. Ethel Smith, en route to her opening at the Moulin Rouge in Paris, stopped in London for 24 hours to visit Vivien Leigh. Ethel reports Vivien is "very close to complete recovery, and hopes to resume her screen career in the Fall" . . . Christine Jorgensen is now being represented for all future showbiz deals by a lawyer named Jack Katz.

THIS MUST PROVE that in a crazy world anything is liable to make you famous. Leona Anderson, a dignified lady who sang a song titled "Fish" for the firm known as Horrible Records, found the gag disc helped her career. The nonsensical promotion upped her night club salary 1000 percent.

Topnotch: "Stalag 17" at the Astor—funny and well-acted . . . Harry Wismer's Mutual program on wonderful New York . . . Bouillabaisse Marseillaise—simply delectable—'at Monte's Sea Food House . . . Frankie Carle's bouncy biscuit, "Rhythm of Raindrops" . . . Ruth Brown's zingy warbling at the Apollo. Marilyn Monroe admits to her best chums that although she's been seeing a lot of Joe DiMaggio for two years, she just fell "really in love" with him recently. And that's when she started deciding on the wedding details. (The pals insist this is the funny part of the romance: although she may soon be Mrs. Di, she still thinks Joe used to be a pitcher!)

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

GIDEON, is the famous psychologist of the Bible. When his 300 men routed the vast armies of the enemy, then the rest of his people suddenly grew courageous and joined in the attack.

And the Ephraimites chided Gideon sharply because they said he had not called them to help him rout the enemy in the first place.

Now notice what a diplomat Gideon was, for the Ephraimites had apparently been just as scared and chicken hearted as the 22,000 men in Gideon's army who had admitted their terror and gone home before the battle.

But tactful Gideon didn't mention such deflating things! Instead, he used the "Compliment Club" technique on them.

"WHAT HAVE I DONE NOW," Gideon began, "that even remotely compares with what you have done? For you have captured the two princes of Midian!"

"What was I able to do in comparison of you? Then their anger was abated toward him when he said that." (Judges 8:23)

So Gideon continued with his 300 picked troops, pursuing the 15,000 men that still remained with the two kings of Midian.

But Gideon's forces were hungry, so they stopped at the town of Succoth for some food. The rulers of the city couldn't imagine how Gideon's 300 soldiers would possibly be able to capture the army of 15,000 ahead.

BEFORE THE SUN set that same day, he routed the remaining 15,000 men by another surprise attack, and captured their two kings.

It was after dark when Gideon returned to the snooty town of Succoth. Then Gideon still showed his scientific attitude.

For instead of leading a frontal assault on the city's gates, he waited till almost dawn. Then he captured a young fellow who probably was coming home late from seeing his girl friend in Succoth.

Gideon made this young buck show them the secrets of the town and then his 300 captured it without firing an arrow.

And Gideon fulfilled his vow to the men. For the Bible says he "taught" the elders of the city and all its men with the thorns and briers of the wilderness.

T. U.: I am thirty-seven and have been losing the hair from my scalp, eyebrows and body for about six months. What could be the cause?
ANSWER: From the description given, it would seem that you are suffering from alopecia areata, a type of baldness, the cause for which is not known, although it is probably due to some emotional stress. In many cases, regrowth takes place from six to eight months after loss of hair. However, the loss can be permanent. It would be well for you to consult a physician about this.

W. N.: After having a baby, I have had excessive fatigue, loss of interest, loss of vigor, and general weakness. Can you help me?
ANSWER: This may be due to a poor diet during and after pregnancy. Many women, after having a baby, develop severe physical fatigue because of worry about the baby, increased work and loss of normal rest.

DAIRIES ATTACK MILK BOARD

Defense Attorney Calls State Commission 'Dictators'

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, July 9.—A Rossford dairy today attacked the State Milk commission for using "dictator tactics" in directing dealers to turn over to it the lists of wholesale customers by June 15.

In a petition filed with the Montgomery county courts, Bechtel, Daines, Rossford and Sunnyvale Farms, Worcester township, asked for a review of the action of Judge of the Peace Charles J. Gorman, Norristown, who levied fines of $50 and costs of $9.50 each on the petitioners for alleged violation of the Milk commission regulations.

Lloyd Bechtel, owner of the Rossford dairy, admitted receiving a "bulletin" from the Milk commission giving notice of the regulations.

He said he was in the process of preparing the information when he received a summons for the hearing.

The rapidity with which the Milk control commission acted in the matter smacks of dictatorship, commented Attorney Raymond Pearlstone who filed the court action.

Butler was replying to Laborite Emanuel Shinwell who wondered if the House could be told what was wrong with the prime minister.

1000 Attend State Adventist Keynote

WESCOESVILLE, July 9 — Pottstown and Montgomery county Seventh-Day Adventists today joined more than 1000 delegates from Eastern Pennsylvania in the initial session of the 43d annual camp meeting convention at the Church's assembly grounds near Allentown.

T. Edgar Unruh, Reading, president of the East Pennsylvania conference, declared at the opening and keynote service that "a love of God and religious things is the greatest need of the world today."

"There will be no solution to peace of the world today unless men and women turn to love of mankind instead of hatred which is now dominating our civilization," the conference executive declared.

"The world today is trying to better its position through science, social betterment, better living conditions and other means, but no good consequence can come unless they first come to God," he asserted. "The only hope of the world today is the Saviour of man."

THE FIRST full day of the ten-day convention will begin tomorrow morning with sessions continuing until Saturday, July 18. More than 2500 persons are expected to attend the weekend sessions from all over Eastern Pennsylvania in what is expected to be the largest attendance in the conference history.

Scheduled to address the sessions tomorrow are Taylor G. Busch, pastor of the denomination's largest church in Washington, D. C.; T. Housel Jemison, associate secretary of the Ellen G. White Foundation, Washington, D. C.; and Dan A. Ochs, president of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists.

The Pottstown and Montgomery county delegation is headed by H. E. Hass, pastor. Most members of the local church will attend the convention over the weekend.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By The VACATION EDITOR
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Friends, don't let your vacation degenerate into a family squabble. Vacations have been known to embitter husbands and wives from Summer to Summer. They have been responsible for unmemorable family rifts.

The first rumbling of vacation troubles crop up when father comes home from work and announces he has three weeks vacation instead of two.

Mother, who has stayed in the kitchen and worked hard all year, wants to visit Aunt Phyllis in New Mexico. But father disagrees. He wants to spend a few days at the shore and then exercise on repairs to the home and yard.

THEN THERE'S the ensuing battles over what to take with you on vacation and finally the grind on the road, the argument about which route to take, at which service station to buy "gas," the best restaurant, the roomiest and coolest motel.

Your vacation doesn't have to be cause for a family brawl. Take it easy. Compromise a little on each disagreement. Plot your course carefully and don't get rattled when you get out on the road.

Barbara Williams, 26 Reynolds avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spielman Sr., Pottstown RD 3, wrote from Fort Smith, Ark., "Visiting Pat. John L. Spielman,

Three cards were received from Miami Beach. Russ and Dottie Hembach, Elverson RD 1, wrote from that spot. "Spending vacation down here. We're fine. Everything is just wonderful."

"Having a wonderful time. Hello to the gang." This was the greeting from Elizabeth Bartchko and son, Kelvin.

"Weather is beautiful. Warm during day. Cool at night. Spending a week here."

Seawell Successor Is Still Undecided

The naming of a successor for A. C. Seawell who recently re- signed as administrator of Pott- stown hospital may still be "weeks away," it was announced yester- day. Sam H. Keiser, secretary of the board of trustees of the hospital, said last night that two applicants already have been interviewed. "But it'll take us quite a while before we decide," he said. "It may be weeks yet be- fore we reach a final decision." Seawell resigned after more than six years here because he was offered the post of administrator at the new hospital at Butler. He will assume his new duties Sept. 1. When your eyes are tired you are more apt to be bothered by cinders and dust because the tis- sues do not react normally to get rid of foreign matter.

Radio Dispatchers Kept Busy by Calls

KANSAS CITY, July 9 (AP)—Curiosity kept police radio dispatchers on the jump last night and today. More than 500 persons called the police dispatchers emergency number, Benton 8100, last night. The calls continued today. As soon as the dispatchers answered the callers hung up.

Police said the rush began after many persons had received advertising matter from a bank. These contained a small celluloid disc, bearing emergency telephone numbers, to be placed on the center of telephone dials.

Lieut. Thomas W. Mullins, chief dispatcher, said the callers apparently were curious to see if they really could get the police by calling the number.

THE STORY of a Pottstown RD 2 college student trampled by a "friendly" bull this past November took a new twist yesterday. He was loaded into the Good Will ambulance late yesterday afternoon enroute to a veterans hospital in Cleveland, Ohio. Aiding the stretcher bearers at the rear of the big red ambulance was Merritt S. Wien (left), service officer and commander of Post 780, Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was through the efforts of Wien, who began working on the case in December, that Amole gained admission to the Cleveland hospital. The ambulance is due in Cleveland early this morning.

Beria Booted Out of Top Soviet Job, Tagged Traitor in Kremlin Showdown

LONDON, Friday, July 10 (AP)—Lavrenti P. Beria, head of the Soviet blood purge police under Stalin, has been fired as deputy premier in Moscow, booted out of the Communist party, and branded a traitor to the Soviet Union.

That left Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in the grim struggle today for power over the Soviet Union, its satellites and its captive countries.

The three were a post-Stalin triumvirate until now, although Beria had been reported heading for a purge himself.

Malenkov in person formally laid the treason charges against Beria before the Soviets.

Beria's downfall may have been quickened by the failure of his security forces to avert uprisings in East Germany, the satellites, and the Soviet Union itself.

The Soviet government announced on Moscow radio last night that his job as home minister—in charge of the secret police—would be taken by the little known Sergei Nikiforovich Kruglov.

The purge of Beria indicated that Premier Georgi Malenkov now may be firmly in the saddle and had disposed of his chief rival for the job.

BERIA apparently was made the scapegoat for the waves of rebellion which have been sweeping the satellites.

He also was in charge of Russia's atomic energy program, but there was no indication whether shortcomings in that department may have contributed to his downfall.

Moscow dispatches said the news of Beria's dramatic dismissal was greeted with wild rejoicing at a Communist party meeting in the Kremlin's Hall of Columns.

It broke on the world first through broadcasts and later by dispatches quoting the Moscow press.

THE FORMAL public action in Moscow was taken last night at a meeting of some 2000 Communist dignitaries who denounced the mild-appearing, bespectacled Beria as an "international imperialist agent" and an "enemy of the Communist party and Soviet people."

The Soviet Government charged him with trying "to undermine the Soviet state in the interest of foreign capital."

Red leaders denounced him as a "bourgeois renegade" who "roused the indignation of the entire party and the entire Soviet people."

ACT. MAY ROCK SOVIET EMPIRE

Unrest of Satellites Touches Off Explosion

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Associated Press Writer)

Sparks from the restless Soviet satellite nations apparently have touched off the Kremlin's powder-keg in an explosion that could rock the Communist world to its foundations.

The showdown for power seems to have burst prematurely—before the contestants were fully ready for it. At the moment, Premier Georgi Malenkov appears to have won and Vice Premier Lavrenti Beria to have lost.

Beria, long czar of the vast network of secret police and the most dreaded man in the Communist empire, seems on his way to becoming the chief scapegoat of all the ills, economic and political, afflicting the USSR itself and the captive nations in its orbit.

Beria for all his power in the secret police, was boxed in by the subtle organization of the Soviet Communist party which grips every phase of Soviet activity. The strength of the party at the present moment has outmatched that of the police network. But the battle may be far from ended.

STALIN drew his personal strength from the party, but he ruled the party for many years with an iron fist. Malenkov is not the man Stalin was, and may have a tough war on his hands to keep the party.

Once again Soviet Communist history repeats itself. The purger is to be purged. Beria held the reins of the secret police for a long time—ever since 1939, but it has been always the most uncomfortable pinnacle of power in the USSR.

He himself directed the purge of his predecessor who in turn had sent the previous police chief to the firing squad in Stalin's blood purge of the 1930s.

Unquestionably, this is only the first act of the new Soviet drama. There will be more shocks and surprises as the story unfolds.

SENATE MOVES SALES TAX BILL FOR FINAL VOTE

'It's in the Bag,' GOP Leader Says

HARRISBURG, July 9 (AP)—The Senate today quickly advanced the 1 percent sales tax for a final vote today.

There wasn't a word of debate on the 125 million dollar revenue-raising measure passed by the House last night to end a six-months tax deadlock.

Sen. Earlham B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, renewed a confident prediction that the upper branch will send the tax bill to Gov. John S. Fine by nightfall tomorrow.

"We have more than enough for the necessary 26 votes for passage," he told a newsman. "It's in the bag."

Senate Democrats, however, readied a series of amendments to the sales tax to specifically exempt farm, industrial and mining machinery. Mahany said these would be opposed on the grounds that they would reduce the sales tax revenue by 30 millions in the current biennium.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, described the measure in its present form as "a greater deterrent" to expansion of industry than any other tax at either the state or local level.

"I don't see the logic of taking away local taxation on machinery and putting a State tax on it," he told a reporter. "This is a real blow not only to farmers but to industry."

The House, with its big revenue-raising job out of the way, dug into other controversial issues that hung fire while the tax deadlock commanded first attention.

In a session that lasted more than eight hours the House:

1. Rejected 97-101 a bill to reapportion the House membership which has stood unchanged for 32 years. However, the Republican leadership set in motion the necessary machinery to obtain a second vote on the issue before final adjournment of the 1953 session.

2. Passed 106-91 a bill to regulate underground storage of natural gas near bituminous coal mines in Western Pennsylvania. It went to the Senate.

3. Rejected 86-105 a hotly contested bill to increase the weight limits of commonly used trucks in Pennsylvania from 45,000 to 58,000 pounds. Supporters, thereupon, placed themselves in position to call for a second vote on that issue.

McCarthy Drops Matthews as Aide Following Blast by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower, in the closest he has yet come to a crackdown on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, today accused McCarthy's newly-chosen right hand aide of violating "principles of freedom and decency" in attacking thousands of Protestant clergymen.

McCarthy swiftly announced that he had accepted the resignation of the aide, J. B. Matthews, long-time controversial hunter of people he calls Red.

The whole incident, which found Eisenhower joining leaders in the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish religions in condemning a magazine article by the man McCarthy has lauded as "a star spangled American," was considered a heavy blow to the Wisconsin senator.

Even before Eisenhower spoke out, McCarthy had shown signs of backing away from his avowed determination to keep Matthews as the $11,600 a year staff director of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

A majority of the subcommittee had demanded Matthews' scalp for writing in the American Mercury that in the last 17 years the Communists had enlisted 7000 Protestant clergymen as spies. Communists, fellow travelers or dupes. As Matthews put it Protestant clergymen "are the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus."

But until today McCarthy blocked the firing of Matthews. Pointing out that in the body of the American Mercury article, Matthews had said the vast majority of the clergy were loyal, McCarthy insisted that he alone had the power to hire and fire employees like Matthews.

TODAY however, he said he would leave the decision up to the subcommittee. That was before the Eisenhower denunciation.

It was a busy day for McCarthy. While beating a seeming retreat on Matthews, he launched out with a new challenge to high officials of the Eisenhower Administration.

He announced on the Senate floor that he intends to subpoena Allen Dulles, chief of the hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency, to find out whether Dulles is "thwarting the authority of the Senate" by forbidding CIA employees to testify.

McCarthy said he had been blocked in an investigation of William P. Bundy, a key CIA official, who, McCarthy charged, contributed $400 to the Alger Hiss defense fund.

3 VOLCANOES Erupting in Alaska Wilds

Pitch Darkness Covers Anchorage in Afternoon

FINE ASH SIFTS DOWN ON ALASKA'S BIGGEST CITY

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, July 9 (AP)—Three, and possibly four, volcanoes "blew their tops" across the Gulf of Alaska today and in mid-afternoon Anchorage was in pitch darkness, with fine ash like face powder sifting down over Alaska's largest city.

The peaks were identified by the Air Force as Mount Spurr, 11,650 feet high, 78 miles west of Anchorage; Mount Torbert, a 10,000-foot summit 10 miles west of Mount Spurr; and an unidentified peak 4,500 feet high, four miles to the northwest of Mount Spurr.

The first eruption was sighted by Air Force Major Morris Crepeau about 5:30 a. m., on his return to the Elmendorf Air Force Base from a flight to the westward. Later the CAA station at Seward reported sighting three other towering clouds of smoke from eruptions, at 8:55 a. m., at 10:55 a. m. and 11 a. m., all from apparently different positions.

The huge, swirling cloud from the volcanoes was born eastward on the wind and ash starting falling here about 10 a. m. People brought out umbrellas and rain slickers and donned old clothes going about the city streets. The city's lights, controlled automatically by the darkness, went on at 11 a. m. and motor cars moved about with their headlights on.

"IT'S REALLY exciting, something like once in a lifetime," said Ruthella Wade of the Anchorage Times, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wade live in Omaha, Neb.

"We now have about 18 hours of daylight but it's darker than it ever gets in the wintertime. It's pitch black. We've really got it."

The Alaska railroad here laid off its crews. The city's two airports were closed to traffic. The Anchorage Times distributed small respirators and masks for its 150 newsboys and few news girls to wear on their routes.

Fish and Wildlife service representatives said the ash fall might damage salmon runs in rivers in the vicinity of Mount Spurr.

Shadows of Duke of Windsor's Love Fall Over Margaret's Romance

LONDON, July 9 (AP)—Shadows of the Duke of Windsor's love for an American divorcee fell today over the reported romance of Princess Margaret with a dashing RAF officer who divorced his wife.

Britons, who were long kept in the dark about Windsor's romance with Wallis Simpson that finally cost him his throne, are openly delecting his 22-year-old niece's right to marry the man reported to be her choice.

Margaret is third in line for the throne.

The fortnightly Evening Magazine, Tribune which seldom misses a chance to attack Prime Minister Winston Churchill, said today the cabinet had been approached by a man who offered to marry the princess.

Churchill, however, said today the cabinet had been approached by a man who offered to marry the princess.

The usually authoritative chief parliamentary correspondent of the British Press association said however he "understood" the issue had never been considered by the cabinet.

Queen Elizabeth must approve Margaret's marriage.

THE PRESS association correspondent explained in the event the Queen wanted guidance as to minimal opinion "the most likely course would be for her to consult the prime minister or what-almost ever senior minister was acting for her."

There is, however, no reason to think that this has been the case.

But, "the Church of England collected at the point where Wat- newspaper," a privately owned weekly edited by a Church of England clergyman, described the charge was entered and Watters Princess as a "victim of match-making spinsters."

Watters and two companions, Thomas Wilson, 20, another barber, and Arnold Payne, 19, a butcher, said the other creatures leaped into their flying saucer and zoomed away just as Watters' pickup truck struck and killed the thing they produced.

Scientific examination quickly established the asserted "space man" was just a monkey with its hair and tail removed.

WATTERS admitted in Cobb County Superior court in nearby Marietta today that he had hatched the hoax and absolved his companions. The three originally were arrested on charges of cruelty to animals but Judge James T. Man- ington decided this couldn't be tried.

Since no one had profited from the hoax, no financial fraud could be claimed. But several cars had been claimed. So the highway obstruction charge was entered and Watters Princess as a "victim of match-making spinsters."

Emmanuel Lutheran Troop Committee Studies Scouting at Picnic Meal

Summertime and scouting were the topics discussed by members of the Emmanuel Lutheran church Girl Scout troop committee at its dinner meeting Wednesday evening.

Hosts for the affair were Dr. and Mrs. Paul Z. Hoffman, who entertained the scout heads at their Ringing Rocks park Summer home.

Supper was served at a long wooden table, spread beneath the trees near the Hoffman house. A flowered cloth covered the board. Reports were presented outlining the projects of all five Emmanuel Lutheran troops.

Committee members also heard a resume of past and future Summer activities scheduled for the Scouts.

Among the season's highlights in Scouting was a camp out held at Valley Forge, where the girls combined outdoor cooking and sleeping with tours through an assortment of historic sites.

Several "cook-outs"—Girl Scoutese for meals cooked over open camp fires—were held during June, including one at Sunnybrook park.

Brownies of troop 11, the committee was told, are making plans for a trip to Roadside America, near Hamburg.

They have slated the jaunt for some time in August.

Summer meeting programs, sports, hikes and projects for the girls were also considered at the dinner meeting.

Representing the various troops of the church at the session were:

Mrs. Luther A. Krouse and Mrs. Earl Feight, Girl Scout troop 1.

Mrs. J. Harold Yocom and Mrs. David Detar, Brownie troop 7.

Mrs. Paul Hoffman and Hazel Sotter, Girl Scout troop 2.

Mrs. Ralph Schwenk, Mrs. Raymond Schumacher and Mrs. Glenn Galloway, Brownie troop 11, and Mrs. Ernest Kulp and Mrs. Leonard Moser, Brownie troop 29.

Troop leaders who were present at the picnic included Marjorie Smith, Mrs. Vincent Schweitzer and Mrs. George Bickel.

Assistant leaders who attended were Jean Walker, Mrs. Albert Istenes and Mrs. Douglas Scheffey.

Guests of the committee at the meal were the Rev. Luther A. Krouse and Dr. Paul Z. Hoffman.

Diners served wieners, rolls, potato chips, salad, and tall glasses of iced tea.

(Mercury Staff Writer)

"Anything worth having is worth working for." This seems to fit, says Mrs. Paul Chappie, her Summer cooking to a "T." Winter or Summer, she makes big cooked meals for her family.

Pottstown housewives seem to fight a three month battle with the heat, but on Hanover Heights where Mrs. Chappie lives, 107 Pearl street, things are a bit cooler, even in the kitchen.

However, she does have a recipe for Summer of which she is especially fond. Like many of her dishes, it has an old world touch. Mrs. Chappie collects, especially, German and Russian recipes.

She begins with a can of ready-cooked German imported ham, for the meat in her meal. She then prepares a plain potato salad by cooking the potatoes with the jackets on.

After they are cooled, she peels and dices them.

To a pint jar of mayonnaise she adds a large can of milk. She mixes this with the potatoes along with a fair amount of salt and pepper, and serves on lettuce leaves.

But this is only half the meal. For the hot dish she makes filled cabbage (hallelupes).

She scalds the cabbage leaves in boiling water for a couple of minutes. During this time she washes 1 cup of rice which she adds to 2 pounds of hamburger.

She then fries an onion in bacon fat, being careful not to brown it. Along with salt and pepper she adds the onion to the rice and hamburger mixture.

A can of tomatoes is then mixed in. Depending upon which you prefer, you can either add diced bits of ham or bacon, she pointed out. Mrs. Chappie likes bacon in here.

Everything is mixed well, and rolled in the cabbage leaves, being sure to turn the ends of the leaves in.

It is cooked in water coming one inch above the rolls on medium high heat.

After making certain that the rice is thoroughly cooked, one can of tomato soup is poured in and cooked for 10 minutes. If too much of the water has cooked away, some boiling water may be added before the tomato soup.

Breaded veal, hot pickles, hard boiled eggs and sliced tomatoes complete the meal.

Her favorite dessert with such a meal is chocolate cake, which all her friends and relatives like.

To one-half cup of cooking oil, she adds one cup of sugar.

Shortening can be used in place of the oil, although the cake will not be as moist.

Two cups of sifted flour is added little by little to the oil and sugar. (Any kind of flour is suitable).

To this she puts 1 1/2 cups sour milk. If no sour milk is available, one tablespoon of vinegar in sweet milk will serve the purpose.

Seven heaping tablespoons of cocoa and one teaspoon of vanilla is mixed in. It is then baked for one-half hour in an oven 325 degrees.

She tops it off with a cocoa or white icing of heated milk and (Continued on Page Twenty)

CHOCOLATE CAKE PLUS a cold drink adds up to a fine Summer snack for the Chappie children—and a cool task for their mother, Mrs. Paul Chappie, 107 Pearl street. Watching their mother slice the cake above are the three Chappie sons. Although her family demands fairly heavy meals in Summer as well as Winter, Mrs. Chappie does have a few hints for keeping a kitchen habitable during the hot weather months, and lists her favorite recipes in the accompanying story. She adds that she'll keep watching The Mercury for new ideas from other Pottstonians with simple Summer menus they are willing to share with their neighbors.

Born in Philadelphia general hospital yesterday were twin girls. They are the daughters of former Douglassville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Stokes, now of Philadelphia.

butter, confectioners sugar and vanilla. She does the measuring as she does the making.

Another of Mrs. Chappie's favorite recipes is perogies (filled dumplings).

She begins by cooking potatoes, during which time she cuts one-fourth pound of sharp cheese into tiny pieces. The potatoes are drained, and the cheese is put in immediately to melt the cheese.

A small onion is cut into little pieces and fried in butter just enough to soften the onion.

The potato mixture is then poured in with the onion, salt and pepper, and mixed well. While the potatoes are cooling, she makes a dough mixture of flour, salt, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon of baking powder and water. The dough is made the same as is done for pies.

It is rolled out, and cut with a large glass or cookie cutter. The potato mixture is put on every circle and folded over to form a half moon, making sure that the ends are pressed together well.

The Perogies are then put into a pot of boiling water and cooked. When they are done, she takes them from the water and drains them.

One half pound of butter is melted, browned and poured over the perogies.

They are a lot of work, but she feels that it is worth it, for all her family likes them.

Mrs. Chappie was her own (Continued on Page Twenty-one)

On August 22, the group will hold a field meet at Beaton. Everyone who is planning to go should make their reservations for the bus as soon as possible. They will be taken by Daisy Henry.

Drill team practice is scheduled for July 14, 7:30 p. m. in the Farr field.

All members are invited to attend.

NEW YORK, July 9. — Casey out victory over the world champion, under fire for failing to pions for Parnell, who blanked out Mel Parnell on his All Star them by the same score in Boston

On July 1, The 31-year-old Left-hander from New Orleans permitted eight hits and issued three bases on balls, but two double plays helped him out of as many jams and he went on to register his 12th triumph against only four defeats. No other pitcher in the league has as many victories.

For 6th Straight

Pittsburgh, July 9 — Crafty Ruben Gomez, the New York Giants' 25-year-old right-hander blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-0 on two hits today for the Giants' sixth straight triumph. It was his second shutout and sixth victory of the year. Gomez has lost four.

Gomez struck out six and walked five. Danny O'Connell's single in the second and Eddie O'Brien's bungle in the fifth were the only hits off Gomez and no Pirate got past second base. Rookie outfielder go'd 42 victory in Detroit, sliced the Yankees' first place margin over the White Sox to five games.

The Red Sox rapped starter and loser Whitey Ford for 11 hits but all they needed was one—a home run by Dick Gernert. It came in the third inning following a two-out walk to Bill Goodman and a single by Hoot Evers to give Boston a 3-0 lead. Gernert also collected a double and single in four tries at bat.

The Red Sox picked up another tally in the eighth on singles by Sammy White and Jimmy Piersall.

er Frank Thomas of the Pirates struck out four straight times.

Hank Thompson belted a two run homer in the first for his 15th roundtripper of the year to sew up the game for the Giants. Thompson walloped the homer off starter Elroy Face after Whirey Lockman got the first of his four singles and moved into the select circle sandwiched around an error by Phil Rizzuto. Ford's defeat was his third against nine victories. Boston is the only team in the league that the young left hander has been unable to beat in his two seasons in the majors.
